

Library Technology Guides

Current News Service and Archive

- Home »
- Libraries »
- Guides
- Documents
- Vendors »
- Products »
- News
- Procurement
- Member Login »

[Press Release: Baker and Taylor \[April 21, 2025\]](#)

A Message to Baker & Taylor Customers and Partners in Response to OCLC's Lawsuit

Baker & Taylor has been a proud leader in the library market seeking to offer its customers an excellent service at a competitive price through its BTCat cataloging utility. Baker & Taylor, and its subsidiary Bridgeall Libraries, remain committed to partnering with libraries to serve their communities and inspire literacy. Regrettably, OCLC, while claiming to "welcome competition," has filed a lawsuit containing false and damaging allegations that appear intended to suppress competition. If the lawsuit is not dismissed, Baker & Taylor intends to vigorously defend against these claims and seek all available legal remedies.

OCLC did not make a good faith effort to seek any reasonable resolution with Baker & Taylor about its concerns before rushing to court, but instead precipitously filed its lawsuit, which Baker & Taylor is confident will fail. Now unfortunately, OCLC is revealing its true motivations by immediately publishing a self-serving, inaccurate statement besmirching Baker & Taylor. Make no mistake, in this dispute, Baker & Taylor is the one who is on the side of fair and healthy competition. Baker & Taylor respects OCLC's right to fairly compete in the market, but the same cannot be said for OCLC.

Summary:

Baker & Taylor has been a proud leader in the library market seeking to offer its customers an excellent service at a competitive price through its BTCat cataloging utility. Baker & Taylor, and its subsidiary Bridgeall Libraries, remain committed to partnering with libraries to serve their communities and inspire literacy. Regrettably, OCLC, while claiming to "welcome competition," has filed a lawsuit containing false and damaging allegations that appear intended to suppress competition. If the lawsuit is not dismissed, Baker & Taylor intends to vigorously defend against these claims and seek all available legal remedies. OCLC did not make a good faith effort to seek any reasonable resolution with Baker & Taylor about its concerns before rushing to court, but instead precipitously filed its lawsuit, which Baker & Taylor is confident will fail. Now unfortunately, OCLC is revealing its true motivations by immediately publishing a self-serving, inaccurate statement besmirching Baker & Taylor. Make no mistake, in this dispute, Baker & Taylor is the one who is on the side of fair and healthy competition. Baker & Taylor respects OCLC's right to fairly compete in the market, but the same cannot be said for OCLC.

Publication Year: 2025

Type of Material: Press Release

Language: English

Date Issued: April 21, 2025

Publisher: Baker and Taylor

Series: 2:25-cv-00309-EAS-EPD

Company: Baker & Taylor

Permalink: <https://librarytechnology.org/pr/31288/a-message-to-baker-and-taylor-customers-and-partners-in-response-to-oclc-lawsuit>

DocumentID: 31288 views: 118 Created: 2025-04-19 10:42:13 Last Modified: 2025-04-19 19:33:51.

New Search

Library Technology Guides

Maintained by Marshall Breeding